

"IF TROOPS GO THROUGH U. S. I CAN'T HOLD MY MEN"—VILLA

American From Parral Says Villa Won't Be Responsible For American Lives If Carranza Troops Go Through U. S.; Says His Men Know How Wilson Treated Him and His Enemies; More Troops at Juarez.

San Antonio, Tex., May 29.—(Special.)—The administration at Washington has been informed that Villa, who is now in the United States, has written to the United States government, saying that he will not be responsible for the lives of American soldiers if Carranza's troops go through the United States. Villa says that he knows how Wilson treated him and his enemies, and that he will not be responsible for the lives of American soldiers if Carranza's troops go through the United States.

May 27 half of Villa's forces, under Martin Lopez, attacked San Antonio, about 15 miles southwest of Chihuahua city, on the Mexican North Western railway, and were driven off with heavy losses, after a 24-hour battle. There was no attempt Friday at retreating. There were some rumors of fighting around the city of Chihuahua, and it appears to be certain that Villa and Angeles have some of their rebel forces around that capital, but no particulars which could be depended upon could be learned. The facts seem to be the same as on Thursday that the Carranza forces are still bottled up to these two places.

Well authenticated reports from the Mexican colonies of Durango and Juarez in northwestern Chihuahua are that this section is now being overrun by bands of small bands traveling around making and stealing. They are said to be independent. That section of the state is now totally defenseless, since there are no federal or Villa's forces in those parts.

DALLAS IS CENTER OF NEW VILLA PROPAGANDA

It is claimed that there are 3000 federal troops at Santa Rita, south of Chihuahua city, which came from San Antonio, Texas, and that they are now in the neighborhood of Dallas, and that an attack may be expected.
